

Questions and Answers

Question: How can the contractor both have "experience performing legionella testing (B.3.2a)" and also "not own their own water testing laboratory (B.3.2.e)"?

Answer: Our definition of "Legionella testing" for this portion of the SOW is; drawing samples for the purpose of sending them to an independent third party CDC Elite certified lab located in Southern California and interpreting results. In other words, the experience is for drawing samples, sending them to the lab and interpreting results, not the actual testing performed by the lab.
