Question 019: The specifications make no mention of any clear insulated units being provided. The drawings (AS-701) indicates that the vision areas of the exterior elevations will require clear units. Do we need to provide clear units with Low "E" #2?

Answer 019: Intent is for "Clear" insulated glass units seen on AS-701 to be a low E product meeting performance requirements indicated for IGUs and having a general appearance similar to the windows on the adjacent medical office building (as stated in the specs on page 08-80-00 – 6). The IGU's noted on AS-701 as "Gray" will actually be dark gray and are intended to allude to the black spandrel on the medical office building, though obviously not quite as dark. An example product of the gray IGU's would be Oldcastle's "Graylite II".
