The contractor is advised in performing contract administration functions, the CO may use the services of a support contractor(s) retained by VA to assist in assessing the contractor's compliance with the limitations on subcontracting or percentage of work performance requirements specified in the clause. To that end, the support contractor(s) may require access to contractor's offices where the contractor's business records or other proprietary data are retained and to review such business records regarding the contractor's compliance with this requirement. All support contractors conducting this review on behalf of VA will be required to sign an "Information Protection and Non-Disclosure and Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest Agreement" to ensure the contractor's business records or other proprietary data reviewed or obtained in the course of assisting the CO in assessing the contractor for compliance are protected to ensure information or data is not improperly disclosed or other impropriety occurs. Furthermore, if VA determines any services the support contractor(s) will perform in assessing compliance are advisory and assistance services as defined in FAR 2.101, Definitions, the support contractor(s) must also enter into an agreement with the contractor to protect proprietary information as required by FAR 9.505-4, obtaining access to proprietary information, paragraph (b). Statement of Need

Calibration Verification/ Linearity Standards

Background

As required by VHA Handbook 1106.1

1. All Department of Veterans Affairs (VA's) Pathology and Laboratory Medicine Services that perform testing on patients must meet Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act 1988 and amendments (CLIA) 1988 requirements to:
 - a) Ensure reliability of patient testing in the laboratory and
 - b) Meet accreditation requirements (in this case College of American Pathologists Accreditation Standards)
2. Laboratories that perform clinical diagnostic tests on human specimens and fail to meet the Accreditation requirements as described in 42 CFR 493, or who have demonstrated deficiencies which pose a direct threat to patients may be instructed to terminate those processes.
3. Accreditation requirements include performing Calibration Verification for many tests and Validation of the Analytical Measurement range (sometimes called the reportable range).
4. Accreditation requirements include Competency Assessment for all tests that are performed by testing personnel. For Clinical Laboratories, Competency Assessment must be done using six elements, one of which is performance of either Proficiency Testing or a Blind Specimen.

Scope

The overall purpose of this requirement is to obtain a contractor to provide Materials that could be used to perform Calibration Verification and Validation of the Analytical Measurement range for various tests. The contractor must also provide a CLIA '88 approved proficiency testing program for Transfusion Medicine that provides for Competency Assessment.

The contractor must be able to provide materials that could be used to perform the testing and meet the intent of the following definitions:

1. Calibration Verification: Calibration Verification denotes the process of confirming that the current calibration settings for each analyte remain valid for a test system. It is required to perform Calibration Verification at least every six months or after major maintenance or service.

Materials suitable for Calibration Verification:

1. Primary or secondary standards or reference materials with matrix characteristics and target values appropriate for the method.
2. Third part general purpose reference materials that are suitable for verification of calibration following reagent lot changes if the material is listed in the package insert or claimed by the method manufacturer to be commutable with patient specimens for the method. A commutable reference material is one that gives the same numeric results as would a patient specimen containing the same quantity of analyte in the analytic method; i.e. matrix effects are absent.

3. Proficiency testing material or proficiency testing validated material with matrix characteristics and target values appropriate for the method.

2. Analytical Measurement Range: The Analytical Measurement Range is the range of analyte values that a method can directly measure on the specimen without any dilution, concentration or pretreatment not part of the usual assay process. Minimum requirements can be met by using matrix appropriate materials, which include the low, mid and high concentration or activity range of the AMR and recovering appropriate target values, within defined acceptance criteria. The best practice for AMR verification is to demonstrate a linear relationship, within defined acceptance criteria, between measured concentrations of analytes and expected values for a set of four or more matrix-appropriate samples that cover AMR. The AMR must be verified at least every six months after a method is initially placed in service and following the accreditation criteria.

Materials suitable for AMR Verification

The materials used for AMR verification must be known to have matrix characteristics appropriate for the method. The matrix of the sample (i.e. the environment in which the sample is suspended or dissolved) may influence the measurement of the analyte. The verification must include specimens, which at a minimum, are near the low, midpoint, and high values of the AMR.

3. Proficiency Testing specimens for Competency Assessment for Transfusion Medicine: Competency Assessment must be done on each person performing patient testing to perform his/her assigned duties. Competency assessment must include all six elements required by accreditation standards for each test system that the employee has as part of his/her responsibility. The element that requires this is as follows:
 - Assessment of test performance through testing previously analyzed specimens, internal blind testing samples or external proficiency testing samples.

Salient Characteristics

1. Contract must provide materials that have the same matrix as patient samples and can provide for both Calibration Verification and Analytical Measurement Range (AMR/ Linearity) for the following analytes and be able to test the full range of the AMR as listed in the table below. The Calibration Verification/ AMR kits will include samples that can be tested at a minimum of three points for each test.

The Government will consider for award only offers of U.S.-made or designated country end products unless the Contracting Officer determines that there are no offers for such products or that the offers for such products are insufficient to fulfill the requirements of the solicitation.

(h) Certification Regarding Responsibility Matters (Executive Order 12689). (Applies only if the contract value is expected to exceed the simplified acquisition threshold.) The offeror certifies, to the best of its knowledge and belief, that the offeror and/or any of its principals—

(1) ☐ Are, ☐ are not presently debarred, suspended, proposed for debarment, or declared ineligible for the award of contracts by any Federal agency;

(2) ☐ Have, ☐ have not, within a three-year period preceding this offer, been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against them for: commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a Federal, state or local government contract or subcontract; violation of Federal or state antitrust statutes relating to the submission of offers; or Commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, violating Federal criminal tax laws, or receiving stolen property;

(3) ☐ Are, ☐ are not presently indicted for, or otherwise criminally or civilly charged by a Government entity with, commission of any of these offenses enumerated in paragraph (h)(2) of this clause; and

(4) [] Have, [] have not, within a three-year period preceding this offer, been notified of any delinquent Federal taxes in an amount that exceeds $3,500 for which the liability remains unsatisfied.

(i) Taxes are considered delinquent if both of the following criteria apply:

(A) The tax liability is finally determined. The liability is finally determined if it has been assessed. A liability is not finally determined if there is a pending administrative or judicial challenge. In the case of a judicial challenge to the liability, the liability is not finally determined until all judicial appeal rights have been exhausted.

(B) The taxpayer is delinquent in making payment. A taxpayer is delinquent if the taxpayer has failed to pay the tax liability when full payment was due and required. A taxpayer is not delinquent in cases where enforced collection action is precluded.

(ii) Examples.

(A) The taxpayer has received a statutory notice of deficiency, under I.R.C. Sec. 6212, which entitles the taxpayer to seek Tax Court review of a proposed tax deficiency. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek Tax Court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(B) The IRS has filed a notice of Federal tax lien with respect to an assessed tax liability, and the taxpayer has been issued a notice under I.R.C. Sec. 6320 entitling the taxpayer to request a hearing with the IRS Office of Appeals contesting the lien filing, and to further appeal to the Tax Court if the IRS determines to sustain the lien filing. In the course of the hearing, the taxpayer is entitled to contest the underlying tax liability because the taxpayer has had no prior opportunity to contest the liability. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek tax court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(C) The taxpayer has entered into an installment agreement pursuant to I.R.C. Sec. 6159. The taxpayer is making timely payments and is in full compliance with the agreement terms. The taxpayer is not delinquent because the taxpayer is not currently required to make full payment.

(D) The taxpayer has filed for bankruptcy protection. The taxpayer is not delinquent because enforced collection action is stayed under 11 U.S.C. 362 (the Bankruptcy Code).
