Question: (Explain in detail)

If there have not been sufficient awards of similar projects to a single Veteran Owned Small Business located within this region, then if the Veteran Owned Small Businesses within this local region bidding the current project as a Veteran Owned Small Business Prime has a teaming agreement with a major subcontractor, can the subcontractor's past experience be submitted to satisfy the project's current requirements as stated within the RFP; and if yes, will the past experience information be evaluated equally to the Prime?

Response:

Veteran-Owned Small Business (VOSB) as prime contractor will be reviewed to determine if the vendor meets eligibility and experience requirements of solicitation VA245-16-B-0091.

A properly executed teaming arraignment agreement/ joint venture will permit the parties of a teaming arraignment agreement/ joint venture to be collectively considered to act as a prime contractor. In addition, individual parties to the teaming arraignment agreement/ joint venture will be reviewed to determine experience and meet requirements as a responsible business.
