

Salient Characteristics

The CR220 Intraoperative Remote Assistant Kit, PN: FUZ1079, for Ear surgeries, for the Audiology clinic

The CR220 Intraoperative Remote Assistant is a hand-held device that allows staff in the OR to test impedances, perform AutoNRT® and obtain a full T-NRT profile without the need of a computer. The MVAHCS is seeking the CR220 Intraoperative Remote Assistant or equal as shown below:

| Item # | Description/Part Number* | Qty |
|---------------|---|------------|
| 1 | CR220 Intraoperative remote assistant kit PN: FUZ1079 | 1 |

The CR220 Intraoperative Remote Assistant to be added to the MVAHCS shall have the following salient characteristics:

- Must be hand-held
- Must be a standalone device that does not need a computer connection
- Must be able to obtain a full T-NRT profile
- It must be able to take measurements in an average of 7.3 minutes