4.9 Per Diem, Billing and Payment: Unless specifically excluded in the contract, the per diem rate established will include the services listed in this document and will also include all services or supplies normally provided other residents by the facility without extra charge. Payments made by the VA under this contract shall constitute the TOTAL cost of care and housing of the homeless Veterans. “Per Diem” means that the VA will pay for the eligible Veteran’s stay in a contracted bed for each day the Veteran resides at the facility and receives services. The VA also refers to this as “bed days of care.” Unless specifically excluded in this contract, the per diem rate established will include the services listed in this document and will also include the services or supplies normally provided other residents by the facility without extra charge. It is the contractor’s responsibility to have appropriate systems of verification of services in place to justify invoices and payments.

The VA can only pay per diem for eligible Veterans (i.e., Veterans whom VA refers to the contractor, or for whom VA authorizes the provision of services) as determined by the local VA medical center HCHV program. VA pays per diem for each eligible Veteran’s exclusive use of a residential treatment bed within a facility. Therefore, the contractor may not bill the VA and the VA will not pay per diem for beds that are used by more than one person at a time, such as in shifts. For example, it is not permissible to bill the VA for a bed that was used by an eligible Veteran at night but then given to someone else to sleep in during the day while the eligible Veteran was attending appointments outside of the facility.

Contractors may only bill the VA for bed days of care for Veterans who are actively residing at the facility and receiving associated treatment services. In the case of Veteran absences, the following rules will apply:

- 4.9.1 Veteran residents will be allowed up to two consecutive days of excused absence from the facility per month. The contractor will be expected to hold the bed and will be reimbursed for the two days of absence. An excused absence is defined as an absence that is planned and benefits the Veteran’s clinical treatment or community reintegration. Examples of acceptable excused absences could include a brief hospital stay for a medical evaluation or procedure, or travel to attend a family funeral. Absences will only be considered excused if the VA representative is informed in advance of the absence and concurs with the rationale for it.
- 4.9.2 Veteran residents who vacates the facility without prior notice or permission will be considered to have an unexcused absence. If the Veteran does not return to the facility after 24 hours, he/she will be discharged from the program by the VA representative. The contractor will not be expected to hold the bed and will be reimbursed for the discharge date. The discharge date is the day the 24 hour absence ends; the contractor can bill for the 24 hours that the bed was held in anticipation of the Veteran’s return. For example, if the Veteran signs out on Monday at noon for an appointment but have not returned by Tuesday at noon, the Veteran will be discharged on Tuesday and the contractor can bill for Tuesday. It is the contractor's responsibility to immediately notify the VA Representative when a Veteran's unexpected absence from the facility exceeds 24 hours.

- 4.9.3 The Contracting Officer reserves the right to remove any or all patients from the facility at any time without additional cost, when it is determined to be in the best interest of VA or the patient.

Under this contract, VA will make per diem payments in a method consistent with VA policy. Where necessary the VA representative will review and approve monthly invoicing prior to certification. Contractor will submit to the Financial Services Center by the 10th of the following month for certification and payment. (Contractor Performance Standard # 20) Payment to Contractor will be made 30 days in arrears from receipt of the invoice. Contractors will be provided with specific invoicing instructions.
